A BILL

To prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex, gender identity, and sexual orientation, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Equality Act”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

3 (1) Discrimination can occur on the basis of the 4 sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, pregnancy, 5 childbirth, or a related medical condition of an indi-
6 vidual, as well as because of sex-based stereotypes.
7 Each of these factors alone can serve as the basis
8 for discrimination, and each is a form of sex dis-
9 crimination.

10 (2) A single instance of discrimination may 11 have more than one basis. For example, discrimina-12 tion against a married same-sex couple could be 13 based on the sex stereotype that marriage should 14 only be between heterosexual couples, the sexual ori-15 entation of the two individuals in the couple, or 16 both. In addition, some persons are subjected to dis-
17 crimination based on a combination or the intersec-
18 tion of multiple protected characteristics. Discrimi-19 nation against a pregnant lesbian could be based on 20 her sex, her sexual orientation, her pregnancy, or on 21 the basis of multiple factors.

22 (3) Lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and 23 queer (referred to as “LGBTQ”) people commonly 24 experience discrimination in securing access to pub-25 lic accommodations—including restaurants, senior 26 centers, stores, places of or establishments that pro-

1 vide entertainment, health care facilities, shelters, 2 government offices, youth service providers including 3 adoption and foster care providers, and transpor-
4 tation. Forms of discrimination include the exclusion
5 and denial of entry, unequal or unfair treatment, 6 harassment, and violence. This discrimination pre-7 vents the full participation of LGBTQ people in so-8 ciety and disrupts the free flow of commerce.

9 (4) Women also have faced discrimination in 10 many establishments such as stores and restaurants, 11 and places or establishments that provide other 12 goods or services, such as entertainment or transpor-
13 tation, including sexual harassment, differential pric-
14 ing for substantially similar products and services, 15 and denial of services because they are pregnant or 16 breastfeeding.

17 (5) Many employers already and continue to 18 take proactive steps, beyond those required by some 19 States and localities, to ensure they are fostering 20 positive and respectful cultures for all employees.
21 Many places of public accommodation also recognize 22 the economic imperative to offer goods and services 23 to as many consumers as possible.

24 (6) Regular and ongoing discrimination against 25 LGBTQ people, as well as women, in accessing pub-

1 lic accommodations contributes to negative social 2 and economic outcomes, and in the case of public ac-
3 commodations operated by State and local govern-
4 ments, abridges individuals’ constitutional rights.

5 (7) The discredited practice known as “conver-6 sion therapy” is a form of discrimination that harms 7 LGBTQ people by undermining individuals’ sense of 8 self worth, increasing suicide ideation and substance 9 abuse, exacerbating family conflict, and contributing 10 to second-class status.

11 (8) Both LGBTQ people and women face wide-12 spread discrimination in employment and various 13 services, including by entities that receive Federal fi-
14 nancial assistance. Such discrimination—

15 (A) is particularly troubling and inappro-16 priate for programs and services funded wholly 17 or in part by the Federal Government;

18 (B) undermines national progress toward 19 equal treatment regardless of sex, sexual ori-20 entation, or gender identity; and 21 (C) is inconsistent with the constitutional 22 principle of equal protection under the Four-23 teenth Amendment to the Constitution of the 24 United States.

1 (9) Federal courts have widely recognized that,
2 in enacting the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Congress
3 validly invoked its powers under the Fourteenth 4 Amendment to provide a full range of remedies in 5 response to persistent, widespread, and pervasive 6 discrimination by both private and government ac-7 tors.

8 (10) Discrimination by State and local govern-
9 ments on the basis of sexual orientation or gender 10 identity in employment, housing, and public accom-11 modations, and in programs and activities receiving 12 Federal financial assistance, violates the Equal Pro-13 tection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the 14 Constitution of the United States. In many cir-15 cumstances, such discrimination also violates other 16 constitutional rights such as those of liberty and pri-
17 vacy under the due process clause of the Fourteenth 18 Amendment.

19 (11) Individuals who are LGBTQ, or are per-20 ceived to be LGBTQ, have been subjected to a his-21 tory and pattern of persistent, widespread, and per-22 vasive discrimination on the bases of sexual orienta-23 tion and gender identity by both private sector and 24 Federal, State, and local government actors, includ-
25 ing in employment, housing, and public accommoda-

1 tions, and in programs and activities receiving Fed-
2 eral financial assistance. This discrimination inflicts 3 a range of tangible and intangible harms, sometimes 4 even including serious physical injury or death. An 5 explicit and comprehensive national solution is need-6 ed to address this discrimination, including the full 7 range of remedies available under the Civil Rights
8 Act of 1964.

9 (12) Discrimination based on sexual orientation
10 includes discrimination based on an individual's ac-11 tual or perceived romantic, emotional, physical, or 12 sexual attraction to other persons, or lack thereof, 13 on the basis of gender. LGBTQ people, including 14 gender nonbinary people, also commonly experience 15 discrimination because of sex-based stereotypes.
16 Many people are subjected to discrimination because 17 of others' perceptions or beliefs regarding their sex-
18 ual orientation. Even if these perceptions are incor-
19 rect, the identity imputed by others forms the basis 20 of discrimination.

21 (13) Numerous provisions of Federal law ex-
22 pressly prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex, 23 and Federal courts and agencies have correctly in-24 terpreted these prohibitions on sex discrimination to 25 include discrimination based on sexual orientation,

1 gender identity, and sex stereotypes. In particular,
2 the Supreme Court of the United States correctly
3 held in Bostock v. Clayton County, 140 S. Ct. 1731
4 (2020) that the prohibition on employment discrimi-5 nation because of sex under title VII of the Civil 6 Rights Act of 1964 inherently includes discrimina-
7 tion because of sexual orientation or transgender 8 status.

9 (14) This Act makes explicit that existing Fed-10 eral statutes prohibiting sex discrimination in em-
11 ployment (including in access to benefits), 12 healthcare, housing, education, credit, and jury serv-
13 ice also prohibit sexual orientation and gender iden-14 tity discrimination.

15 (15) LGBTQ people often face discrimination 16 when seeking to rent or purchase housing, as well as 17 in every other aspect of obtaining and maintaining 18 housing. LGBTQ people in same-sex relationships 19 are often discriminated against when two names as-20 sociated with one gender appear on a housing appli-
21 cation, and transgender people often encounter dis-
22 crimination when credit checks or inquiries reveal a 23 former name.

24 (16) National surveys, including a study com-25 missioned by the Department of Housing and Urban

1 Development, show that housing discrimination 2 against LGBTQ people is very prevalent. For in-3 stance, when same-sex couples inquire about housing 4 that is available for rent, they are less likely to re-5 ceive positive responses from landlords. A national 6 matched-pair testing investigation found that nearly 7 one-half of same-sex couples had encountered ad-
8 verse, differential treatment when seeking elder 9 housing. According to other studies, transgender 10 people have half the homeownership rate of non-11 transgender people and about 1 in 5 transgender 12 people experience homelessness. Another survey
13 found that 82 percent of gender nonbinary people 14 experiencing homelessness lacked access to shelter.

15 (17) As a result of the absence of explicit prohi-16 bitions against discrimination on the basis of sexual 17 orientation and gender identity, credit applicants
18 who are LGBTQ, or are perceived to be LGBTQ, 19 have unequal opportunities to establish credit.
20 LGBTQ people can experience being denied a mort-
21 gage, credit card, student loan, or many other types 22 of credit simply because of their sexual orientation 23 or gender identity.

24 (18) Numerous studies demonstrate that 25 LGBTQ people, especially transgender people and

1 women, are economically disadvantaged and at a
2 higher risk for poverty compared with other groups
3 of people. For example, the poverty rate for older 4 women in same-sex couples is twice that of older dif-
5 ferent-sex couples.

6 (19) The right to an impartial jury of one's 7 peers and the reciprocal right to jury service are 8 fundamental to the free and democratic system of 9 justice in the United States and are based in the 10 Bill of Rights. There is, however, an unfortunate 11 and long-documented history in the United States of 12 attorneys discriminating against LGBTQ individ-
13 uals, or those perceived to be LGBTQ, in jury selec-14 tion. Failure to bar peremptory challenges based on 15 the actual or perceived sexual orientation or gender 16 identity of an individual not only erodes a funda-
17 mental right, duty, and obligation of being a citizen
18 of the United States, but also unfairly creates a sec-
19 ond class of citizenship for LGBTQ victims, wit-
20 nesses, plaintiffs, and defendants.

21 (20) Numerous studies document the shortage
22 of qualified and available homes for the approxi-
23 mately 424,000 youth in the child welfare system 24 and the negative outcomes for the many youth who 25 live in group care as opposed to a loving home or

1 who age out of care without a permanent family
2 placement. Although same-sex couples are 7 times
3 more likely to foster or adopt than their different-4 sex counterparts, many child-placing agencies refuse 5 to serve same-sex couples and LGBTQ individuals.
6 This has resulted in a reduction of the pool of quali-
7 fied and available homes for youth in the child wel-8 fare system who need placement on a temporary or 9 permanent basis. It also sends a negative message 10 about LGBTQ people to children and youth in the 11 child welfare system about who is, and who is not,
12 considered fit to be a parent. While the priority 13 should be on providing the supports necessary to 14 keep children with their families, when removal is re-15 quired, barring discrimination in foster care and 16 adoption will increase the number of homes available
17 to foster children waiting for foster and adoptive 18 families.

19 (21) LGBTQ youth are overrepresented in the 20 foster care system by at least a factor of two and 21 report twice the rate of poor treatment while in care 22 compared to their non-LGBTQ counterparts.
23 LGBTQ youth in foster care have a higher average 24 number of placements, higher likelihood of living in 25 a group home, and higher rates of hospitalization for

1 emotional reasons and of juvenile justice involvement
2 than their non-LGBTQ peers because of the high 3 level of bias and discrimination that they face and 4 the difficulty of finding affirming foster placements.
5 Further, due to their physical distance from friends 6 and family, traumatic experiences, and potentially 7 unstable living situations, all youth involved with 8 child welfare services are at risk for being targeted 9 by traffickers seeking to exploit children. Barring 10 discrimination in child welfare services will ensure 11 improved treatment and outcomes for LGBTQ foster 12 children.

13 (22) Courts consistently have found that the 14 government has a compelling interest in preventing 15 and remedying discrimination. For example, the Su-16 preme Court of the United States found there to be 17 a compelling government interest in eliminating sex
18 discrimination in Board of Directors of Rotary
19 International v. Rotary Club of Duarte, 481 U.S.
20 537, 549 (1987). Because discrimination based on 21 sexual orientation or gender identity inherently is a 22 form of sex discrimination, as held in Bostock v.
23 Clayton County, 140 S. Ct. 1731 (2020), this Act
24 furthers the compelling government interest in pro-25 viding redress for the serious harms to mental and

1 physical health, financial security and well-being,
2 civic participation, freedom of movement and oppor-
3 tunity, personal dignity, and physical safety that re-
4 sult from discrimination. Consistent with the role 5 nondiscrimination laws play in protecting lives and 6 livelihoods, alleviating suffering, and improving indi-7 vidual and public health, the Supreme Court of the 8 United States has long recognized, under the deci-9 sion in Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United 10 States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964), that these laws also 11 benefit society as a whole by ending the “disruptive 12 effect” discrimination has on travel and commerce, 13 and by creating a level field for all participants in 14 a given sector.

15 (23) As with all prohibitions on invidious dis-
16 crimination, this Act furthers the government’s com-17 pelling interest in the least restrictive way because 18 only by forbidding discrimination is it possible to 19 avert or redress the harms described in this sub-20 section.

21 (b) PURPOSE.—It is the purpose of this Act to ex-22 pand as well as clarify, confirm and create greater consist-23 ency in the protections and remedies against discrimina-
24 tion on the basis of all covered characteristics and to pro-
25 vide guidance and notice to individuals, organizations, cor-

1 porations, and agencies regarding their obligations under 2 the law.

22 lowing:

1 “SEC. 1101. DEFINITIONS AND RULES.

2 “(a) DEFINITIONS.—In titles II, III, IV, VI, VII, and 3 IX (referred to individually in sections 1106 and 1107 as 4 a ‘covered title’):

5 “(1) RACE; COLOR; RELIGION; SEX; SEXUAL 6 ORIENTATION; GENDER IDENTITY; NATIONAL ORI-7 GIN.—The term ‘race’, ‘color’, ‘religion’, ‘sex’ (in-8 cluding ‘sexual orientation’ and ‘gender identity’), or 9 ‘national origin’, used with respect to an individual, 10 includes—

11 “(A) the race, color, religion, sex (includ-12 ing sexual orientation and gender identity), or 13 national origin, respectively, of another person 14 with whom the individual is associated or has 15 been associated; and

16 “(B) a perception or belief, even if inac-
17 curate, concerning the race, color, religion, sex 18 (including sexual orientation and gender iden-19 tity), or national origin, respectively, of the in-20 dividual.

21 “(2) GENDER IDENTITY.—The term ‘gender 22 identity’ means the gender-related identity, appear-23 ance, mannerisms, or other gender-related character-
24 istics of an individual, regardless of the individual’s 25 designated sex at birth.

1 “(3) INCLUDING.—The term ‘including’ means 2 including, but not limited to, consistent with the 3 term’s standard meaning in Federal law.

4 “(4) SEX.—The term ‘sex’ includes—

5 “(A) a sex stereotype;

6 “(B) pregnancy, childbirth, or a related 7 medical condition;

8 “(C) sexual orientation or gender identity; 9 and
